

BIG RACE WILL BE HELD AT SAVANNAH

Formal Sanction Voted by Governors of Automobile Club of America.

New York, October 11.—Formal sanction for the running of the international grand prize automobile race at Savannah, Ga., on November 12, was voted by the board of governors of the Automobile Club of America this evening, ratifying the action of the committee of the club, which had already awarded the contest to Savannah. The race was originally scheduled to be run over the Vanderbilt Cup course of Long Island on October 15, but was called off on account of public criticism and discontent of drivers, because of the deaths and accidents that marked the Vanderbilt race. Immediately after the governors had given their sanction for holding the race at Savannah, Arthur W. Solomon, secretary of the Automobile Club of that city, announced here that a two-day meet will be held. On November 11, two other races for lighter classes will be run. One race will be for cars of from 161 to 230 cubic inches piston displacement, the other for cars of from 230 to 350 cubic inches piston displacement.

According to Mr. Solomon, nineteen cars have already been promised for the big event, and six cars and drivers are expected to start for Savannah on Tuesday to begin practice. The contest will be held at the Long Island track, headed by Mayor Tiedeman, which came here to urge the city's claims for the race, will return home to-morrow to complete the arrangements for the race.

The course over which the race—the second grand prize—will be run is 15.5 miles long, and the cars will circle it twenty-two times, making the total distance about 407 miles.

The culinary "LAW OF THE HOUSEHOLD"

Is summed up in the famous Weston Snowdrift Oil Cook Book.

It brings to every home the choicest recipes the world has developed for the epicure, and affords many an economical solution to knotty problems of the dining room and kitchen. And instead of hog fat and animal fats and greases, it brings into the family the nourishing, healthful influence of a pure, highly refined vegetable oil, unapproached for fine results in shortening, frying and salad dressings.

Neuman, Elmira, Ont., "spent two months in a hospital, tried everything known, with little or no effect. On December 29, I procured Postlam, and am happy to say that on January 7th (9 days later) I am perfectly healed; my skin is as clear as a baby's."

In minor skin affections, such as pimples, red noses, complexion blemishes, rash, scalp scales, itching feet, etc., small quantities of Postlam will do the work, results being seen overnight.

Raleigh S. Adams, the young South Richmond man, accused of the theft of $700 from his mother, and alleged to be a fugitive from justice, was reported as being in Petersburg last Saturday afternoon. He is said to have purchased two through tickets to New York and to have left that evening with a companion on the 7 o'clock north-bound train. It is expected that he will be arrested shortly.

George Carroll and George Binn, two Irishmen, arrested for fighting, appeared in Police Court yesterday morning. Binn was discharged, while Carroll, who smashed two windows and created much disorder, was fined $10 and costs.

Pastor Resigns.
The resignation of Rev. E. W. D. Thames, pastor of the Weatherford Memorial Baptist Church for the past eighteen months, has been the cause of much regret to his former flock. His action came as a surprise. Although ministering at Weatherford for but a brief time, Mr. Thames has shown indefatigable zeal and interest in all matters pertaining to the upbuilding of the church. The church and Sunday school have advanced by rapid strides, and by his efforts the church debt has been paid, and at present $10,000 is being expended in improvements.

Will Erect New Fire House.
In about three months South Richmond will proudly look upon a new, up-to-date fire house. The work was started yesterday and will be completed with the utmost dispatch. The structure will be equipped with every modern improvement, including an automobile fire engine, ladder wagon and combination hose and chemical engine.

Duped by Stifflers.
Last Saturday night F. C. Smithson, of Matocan, Chesterfield county, was duped by a stranger and conveyed to his boarding house. When Smithson awoke Sunday morning he thought of his friend and went to awake him. The anonymous one had vanished, and so had Smithson's trousers containing all his money, and his shirt and vest. Smithson, unadorned, managed to apparel himself. No one knew the stranger, as he had only been at the house two days.

HOWITZERS LEARN ALL ABOUT HORSES

Captain Wise Lectures Entertainingly on the Science of Hippology.

Horse traders will have to take a second thought in the future before attempting to sell a horse to a member of the Richmond Howitzers. The members of that command learned all about how to buy a horse last night.

The occasion was the first of a series of lectures on "hippology," or the science of the horse, by Captain Jennings C. Wise, adjutant of the Virginia Field Artillery. Captain Wise demonstrated his intimate knowledge of the outside and insides of equines, and his lecture was given the closest attention.

A gray animal was borrowed for the occasion from a local saddler, and, with the assistance of a platoon of gunners, was safely conveyed upstairs to the drill hall. He remained untiringly patient and uncomplaining throughout the performance, not even resenting suggestions that in some particulars he was not very well built. The only accident to Bucephalus was when Captain Wise pulled his tail out by the roots.

Officers Present.
In attendance at the affair, besides Captain Myers and the others officers, and most of the members of the battery, were: Lieutenant Colonel J. Lane Stern, Assistant Inspector-General of the Virginia militia; Major T. M. Wortham, commander of the field artillery; Captain F. K. T. Warrick, the battery surgeon, and Battalion Sergeant-Major W. W. La Prade.

Following the weekly drill, which was had with the guns on the lower floor, the men were grouped in the drill hall and formed with oars, and Captain Myers said a few things.

He expressed the opinion that with only a short time the War Department would issue horses to the artillery, and said that when that time comes it will be a command that the men understand how to take care of their horses. He also injected a few words about Colonel Stern being a member of the State Military Board, in connection with the necessity for steeds. Before introducing Captain Wise, Captain Myers presented L. T. Jones, the new physical instructor.

Captain Wise began by emphasizing the importance of the horse to field artillery. "The gun is of little use without horses," he said. "The value of field artillery depends entirely upon its mobility."

Amateur Veterinarians.
He then told the men how important it was to know a few real facts about horses, and especially to gain an intimate knowledge for use in the field. "Many men," he said, "whose knowledge of horses is limited to the hobby variety, think he can prescribe for a sick animal, and plenty of unfortunate steeds are sacrificed to the ignorance of those who volunteer their hands and the patient horse."

With his charts and the patient borrowed horse, Captain Wise first sketched the anatomy of the equine family, and then went briefly over the usual characteristics and common complaints which are likely to beset them. Passing to the purchase of horses, he gave much information to be followed by those who would invest, several infallible signs of a good or a bad horse were given. In conclusion, he outlined the ideal horses for troop or battery service.

These lectures will be continued from week to week, and promise to be one of the enjoyable features of the winter for the Howitzers.

For the purpose of adding to the attractiveness of the service, and for the moral and physical good of the men, the officers of the Richmond Howitzers have secured the services of L. T. Jones, a skilled physical instructor, for the winter months. He begins his work at the gymnasium to-morrow night.

Mr. Jones is a graduate of the New York Normal School of Physical Education, and has been an instructor at the Dr. Savage Institute in New York. He will at the beginning be at the gymnasium each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday night for the purpose of imparting instruction in matters physical.

General gymnasium work will be taken up by all members of the battery who desire to engage in it, and there will be training in various indoor games, including basketball and fencing. Later, if the interest is sufficient, there will be work every night.

This is probably the first instance in this State where a physical instructor has engaged for a military command. With perhaps the best equipped gymnasium in the city, and one of the best in the South, and with a skilled instructor, it is expected that the keenest interest will be taken in athletics by the members of the Howitzers, and that Captain Myers's solicitation for his men will bear good fruit.

NEW SERGEANT-MAJOR

Chesterfield County Surveyor Now With Field Artillery.

W. W. La Prade, county surveyor of Chesterfield county, and a resident of South Richmond, has been appointed battalion sergeant-major for the Virginia Field Artillery, and will enter upon his duties at once. The appointment was made by Major T. M. Wortham.

Sergeant-Major La Prade is an honor graduate of the Virginia Military Institute, class of 1901, where he was cadet quartermaster. For three years he was subprofessor of calculus and instructor at the institute. Later, he was offered the chair of mathematics at a Virginia college, but declined.

His intimate knowledge of civil engineering and mathematics is expected to be of great service to the battalion in case of field work. His acceptance of the position is peculiarly gratifying to Major Wortham and the battalion officers.

BLUES GET ORDERS

Required to Be Ready for Active Service on October 17.

Without butting into Major E. W. Bowles's official affairs, it would apparently be easy to prove that he has issued a totally unnecessary order. He last night gave positive instructions to all the men of the Blues' Battalion to report at the armory on the evening of October 17 to attend the reception and ball to be tendered the active members—the Blues' Association.

Unnecessary, because the men will be there without orders. Probably very rigid orders would be necessary to keep them away.

The officers and enlisted men are to appear at 8:10 P. M. in full dress uniform, without arms. It should be explained that the arms to be left at home are the rifles, and that the dance would hardly be a success were any other kind to be missing.

Sergeant Lectures.
Sergeant Mike Powers, United States Army, on duty with the First Battalion, First Regiment, delivered a lecture last night after the regular drill to the men of Company F, at the armory. He talked of discipline and of guard mount.
